

Room for Growth

Nutrien Ag Solutions
Tipton, Ind.

5 REASONS TO LOVE THIS FACILITY

1 EYED FOR GROWTH
Identified as an area with a growing agricultural market, this location is one of many Nutrien Ag Solutions retail facilities across North America included in its capital improvement initiative, designed to modernize operations and enhance service.

2 LOCAL FANFARE
At completion of its infrastructure project at the facility, Nutrien hosted a ribbon-cutting Sept. 9.

3 FARMER FOCUS
"This facility is a showcase of innovation, built with one goal in mind: supporting farmer success. Our capital improvement initiative reflects Nutrien's unwavering commitment to delivering industry-leading products, proprietary solutions and services that maximize yield, profitability and sustainability," says Rob Clayton, senior vice president of North American retail.

4 FULL SERVICE
It includes product storage and sales of dry fertilizer, liquid fertilizer, anhydrous, crop protection and seed.

5 TEAMWORK
The project included an office designed with digital and operational efficiencies to further improve customer service and support.

READY TO GO

5,000-ton dry fertilizer storage system with rail access and 250-ton-per-hour receiving and blending capabilities for precise macro and micronutrient blends with liquid impregnation.

LOCAL IMPACT

"For our team, it's not just new infrastructure; it's a commitment to our farmers that Nutrien will be here, season after season," says Rob Clayton, senior vice president of North American retail.

PRODUCT VARIETY

Enhanced anhydrous ammonia system including four riser platforms, 120,000 gallons of NH₃ storage and stabilizer injection capabilities.

PRECISE PLACEMENT

Liquid storage and blending facility with 2 million gallons of UAN storage, 240,000 gallons of nutritional storage, and 110,000 gallons of chemistry storage, plus interior and exterior load pads for custom blends.

THREE-FOLD EFFECT

The upgraded facility provides advanced infrastructure and expanded capabilities to support grower success across central Indiana.
